

WAL ENVOYS OF MEXICO ASK U. S. SUPPORT

Appeals for Recognition Made by Ambassador Calero and Polcarpo Rueda.

AGREE ON ONE FACT
Cause of Trouble in Country Is Chiefly Economic and Agrarian in Its Nature.

Appeals for the support of the people of the United States were made last night by official representatives in Washington of the contending elements in Mexico.

Manuel Calero, newly appointed Ambassador to this country, and recently Minister for Foreign Affairs in the Madero Cabinet, and Polcarpo Rueda, representing Emilio Vasquez Obeso, the new Provisional President of Mexico, gave notice of their arrival in Washington by issuing statements to the newspaper correspondents.

AGREE ON ONE FACT.
The accredited Ambassador of the established government of Mexico and the representative of the paper government proclaimed on Saturday by the rebel leader agree upon one fact in the respective declarations regarding the situation in Mexico. They are in accord in saying that the problem in Mexico, the cause of the present disturbed condition, is chiefly economic and agrarian in its nature.

Ambassador Calero declares that only in Chihuahua is the opposition to the government of a political nature; that the disturbances in the other affected States are due to the economic and agrarian feeling in Mexico, and declares that the government is making, and will continue to make, every possible effort for the protection of American and other foreign interests. The Ambassador declares that he is convinced it is his mission to do what he can to clear up the misunderstanding in the minds of Americans regarding the situation in Mexico.

Polcarpo Rueda, the Gomez representative, announces that he seeks to obtain the recognition of Gen. Orozco and his forces as belligerents and the bestowal upon them by the United States government of all the rights of belligerents in international procedure. He adds that the American people give Orozco their sympathies and the "square deal."

Misunderstanding in United States.

Ambassador Calero said, in part: "The political situation in Mexico has been lamentably misunderstood in the United States. My mission here will be that of rectifying errors, of giving by means of accurate data, that Mexico is now experiencing a period of difficulties to be expected in any country taking the first steps in practical, democratic government."

"Disturbances exist, it is true, in other portions of the republic of Mexico than the State of Chihuahua, but these are not political in character, but are rather brigandage on a greater or lesser scale. These manifestations of brigandage are not new to Mexico, nor to any other Spanish-American country. Here, the native Indian population abhors the alien and has almost always a problem of social and agrarian character as their origin, as is the case in a portion of the Mexican Republic today. My government, while successfully combating these movements, is earnestly striving to find a remedy for said problem, and has, in this connection, already accomplished some most important work."

"To sum up the situation, I may state that only in the State of Chihuahua does there exist a movement of a political nature, that brigandage, which is being efficiently stamped out, has only

PRINCETON PLANS BIG INAUGURATION

President Hibben to Be Installed
University Head Amid Splendid Ceremonials.

Princeton, N. J., May 5.—Officials of Princeton University and members of the college community are making extraordinary preparations to care for the thousands of visitors, alumni, college professors, students, friends and relatives, who will invade the town to attend the formal inauguration of President Hibben, of Princeton University, next Saturday.

One of the official features of these preparations will be the announcement today that the committee in charge of the inauguration has decided to hold the exercises on the steps of Nassau Hall in order to accommodate the crowd.

The inauguration will begin at 11 o'clock, and will consist of the singing of a chorus, the reading of Scripture and the offering of prayer, the administration of the oath of office to the president, and the presentation to him of the charter of the university and the keys of Nassau Hall. These exercises will be followed by the president's inaugural address, a hymn, and a benediction.

At 1 o'clock the university will give a large luncheon in the gymnasium in honor of the guests of the day, to which all the alumni will be invited, and for which all the complimentary addresses will be reserved in order that the alumni may hear them. Following the luncheon, the guests will attend a ball given with Cornell at University Field.

From 6 to 7 o'clock the President and Mrs. Hibben will receive at "Princeton." In the event of rain, or other unfavorable conditions, the ball will take place at Alexander Hall, where it was originally intended to hold the ceremonies.

ENDS LIFE IN RAIN BARREL

Armadillo, Mrs. May 5.—Letting himself down head first into a barrel of rain water under the eaves of his home, Mr. Charles Harris, committed suicide today. He was fifty years old and had been a minister of the Christian church thirty years. Lately he had shown signs of insanity.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S TRIBUTE TO MAJ. BUTT

"Archie Butt's character was simple; it was straightforward. He was incapable of intrigue. He had a clear sense of humor, and it lightened his life and the lives of those about him; but he was single-minded; he was loyal; he never had any doubt about what he ought to say. Life was not for him a troubled problem. He was a soldier, and he was appointed to serve under another and to that other he rendered the complete loyalty, I very much doubt whether I have ever known a man—I have known women—but I very much doubt if I have ever known a man who had as much self-abnegation, as much self-sacrifice, as much of ability to put himself in the place of another and suffer and enjoy with that other as Archie Butt had."—President Taft, in speech at memorial services.

With tears running down his cheeks and his voice breaking with emotion, President Taft paid his tribute of love and esteem to his friend and aid, the late Maj. Archibald W. Butt, at the memorial services held in his honor, yesterday afternoon at the National Theater, under the auspices of Temple Lodge, No. 22, F. A. A. M., of which he was a member. Carter B. Keene, master of the lodge, presiding, and introducing the speakers.

A large picture of the lamented hero, set in immortelles, hung suspended over the center of the stage, upon which were seated President Taft, Secretary of War Stimson, Bishop Harding, Senator Hoke Smith, and other speakers, and the members of the lodge. The stage was decorated with palms and cut flowers, and the whole theater, including gallery, balcony, boxes, and stage were enshrouded with the Stars and Stripes.

One of the boxes was occupied by Mrs. Taft, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Butt, of Augusta, Ga., brother and sister-in-law of Maj. Butt. The Congressional delegation of Georgia occupied another box, while Secretaries Meyer and Wilson also occupied box seats.

DIXIE VETERANS TO HOLD REUNION

Men Who Fought for Confederacy
in '62 Will Meet in Macon

To-day.

Macon, May 5.—The advance guard of the United Confederate Veterans, who are to hold their annual reunion in this city May 7 to 9, made their appearance this morning, the early trains bringing into town William G. Pritchard, commander-in-chief; E. H. Hyman, general secretary; Nathan Bedford Forrest, adjutant general; and Sandy P. Flagg, inspector general. The veterans immediately repaired to their hotels, where they took up the work of reviving the program for the four-day reunion.

Every effort will be made by the city of Macon to provide comfort and pleasure to the visitors. Thousands of homes will be thrown open to them during their stay in the city, the local Southern patriotic organizations will offer extensive entertainment programs, and the best rooms in all the leading hotels will be reserved for the old soldiers, none of whom is now less than sixty-five years old.

The chief feature of the four-day reunion will be the parade of the veterans and their wives. To obviate the discomfort of the march, a change has been made in the usual program, which will render the parade more short and more effective.

Campaign for Building Fund
Commended in Many Pulpits of City.

BUILDING IS NEEDED

From nearly every pulpit in Washington yesterday an appeal was made to the citizens of the National Capital to contribute generously to the building fund for the Young Women's Christian Association. All of the clergymen, of every denomination, spoke in praise of the campaign which is being conducted to raise the money needed for the proposed building.

To date the campaigners have raised $75,000, and the campaign has still to run until midnight May 10. To-day from the campaign headquarters, 1229 F Street Northwest, will go out the 200 workers, determined to obtain thousands of dollars before the daily luncheon and announcements take place at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Macfarland Speaks.

Henry B. F. Macfarland made one of the principal addresses of the day, speaking before the congregation of the Covenant, Eighteenth and N Streets Northwest, at the 11 o'clock service yesterday morning. He said that "women first" was not only the rule of the sea, but the rule of this country, and that, as Ambassador Bryce had said, it had much to do with the country's greatness.

"The National Capital ought not to lag behind in giving women not simply a chance for life, but a chance to live in the best possible way," said Mr. Macfarland. "He knew, his civic life, ought to give women full opportunity to make the most of themselves. And this, as in a sea disaster, not so much for the individual woman as for the human race, enriching its common life with the eternal spirit of unselfishness."

There are 15,000 white women and girls in Washington, 5,000 at work in government and business employment. Over 3,000 are in the Young Women's Christian Association, which in six years, without building or endowment, they have made a great success. Five-sixths of the annual maintenance they themselves contribute, an unexampled result.

SEND FOR RICHESON'S FAMILY TO PROVE HE WAS ALWAYS INSANE

Boston, May 5.—In their final efforts to save the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson from the electric chair in the week of May 13 for killing Miss Avis Linnell, his lawyers to-day sent to Virginia for Richeson's father, Thomas Varian Richeson, and his brother and sister.

The Richesons will try to convince Gov. West that the condemned man is insane, and has been since birth.

Mrs. Lydia Edmonds, mother of Miss Linnell, who was killed, and who was a witness before the governor's council if it grants a hearing to Richeson's case. She believes Richeson is insane.

But lawyers are not the only recipients of peculiar bundles. One dry cleaner was asked to clean and press a green-back which had displeased the eye of some fastidious person. Another had abandoned the stocking bank for one in the sleeve of her nightgown and had carefully stowed away her diamond rings and 500 in currency, all of which went through cash.

Frantic calls for valuables and lost garments are common, however, and promptness sometimes results in the loss of some fastidious person. Another usually fails to discover the collar and cuffs that are short can dig up the curious with success.

SOCIETY WOMAN WOULD TAG UNMARRIED MEN WITH ARTISTIC BUTTON

Cambridge, May 5.—The old question, "I wonder if he's married?" which so many maidens ask themselves when they meet a handsome stranger, need no longer remain unanswered if the plan advocated by Mrs. Frank Page, a prominent society woman of this city, is adopted.

"Unmarried men, and widowers," she says, "should be told by means of artistic buttons worn in their coat lapels, so that their eligibility could not be left in doubt."

"By making out these buttons in social numbers it would be impossible for unscrupulous married men to borrow buttons and use them successfully. Records of button numbers could be kept on record at the statehouse."

VIRGINIA GIRL MISSING TWO MONTHS, IS FOUND ON SPREE IN NEW YORK

New York, May 5.—Mysteriously missing since March 20, Miss Ella Nichols, the seventeen-year-old girl of Winchester, Va., who is said to be a niece of the late Senator Daniel of Virginia, was found to-day in a hallway at 215 West 118th Street and locked up on a charge of intoxication. She was turned over to a probation officer to be held for examination next Tuesday.

The girl came to Winchester to New York to enter the Roosevelt Training School for Nurses, going to live with an aunt in West 118th Street. She left her aunt's home ostensibly to go to the training school, and from that time on her relatives had been unable to find any trace of her. At the request of her uncle, J. Warwick, of Washington, a general alarm was sent out by the police. She refused to-day to divulge her whereabouts since her disappearance.

BANKER SPIRITED AWAY BY POLICE

Depositors of Wrecked First National Had Threatened
Life of the Cashier.

NOW IN HOSPITAL WARD

Norwich, N. Y., May 5.—Frank T. Arnold, cashier of the First National Bank of New Berlin and confessed embezzler of the wrecked bank's funds in a sum exceeding $50,000, is a prisoner to-night in the hospital ward of the local jail, broken in spirit and praying for death to relieve his physical and mental torment.

Arnold, who until the collapse of the First National Bank of New Berlin a month ago was easily the foremost citizen of that village, was brought to the jail here from New Berlin this morning, following his arrest last night. Arnold uttered no word throughout the trip. He refused to be drawn into conversation, and upon reaching the jail was placed in a bed in the hospital ward. He will be arraigned to-morrow before United States Commissioner Phelan and held for the Federal grand jury. An attempt was made to interview Arnold on his wrecking of the bank and as to the purposes he had put the hundreds of thousands of dollars he is alleged to have embezzled was prevented by the sheriff, who stated that the prisoner had given orders that he would see no one, and that he had nothing to say at this time.

The arrest of Arnold and his removal to the jail came some two noon, as many of the depositors of the wrecked bank had threatened his life.

As indicating the sentiment prevailing in the Onondaga Valley against the inactivity of the Federal authorities in dealing with Arnold, the New Berlin Gazette yesterday printed the following:

Might Have Lynched Him.

"To put it very plainly, the people feel that they are being cheated. They want some move made that looks like business. Less hope and more diet in what they would like administered. They knew very well that a boy or a poor man who stole food or clothes to the value of a very few dollars three weeks ago would have been dragged immediately through the streets handcuffed to a humping officer, and the people here, in a certain urban simplicity, actually seem to think that a man who steals $50,000 is a thief, too—just a plain thief, only bigger and deserving more punishment."

"Little is lacking save a leader, and we hope he will not be found. Patience has been sorely tried here of late, and if the man and the hour should coincide, we may awaken some morning to the knowledge that ours is not as quiet and law-abiding a community as we had supposed."

This statement of the roared public sentiment forced action by the Federal officials, and at midnight last night they arrested the bank wrecked. It was impossible, however, to remove him from his paternal home immediately because of the menacing crowd that surrounded the place, but he was spirited away before daylight.

Ontario Starts for Dry Dock.

New London, Conn., May 5.—The Merchants and Miners Line steamship Ontario, which caught fire off Block Island the night of April 7 and was beached near Montauk Point, and was floated and towed here Friday, left for Brooklyn this afternoon under tow to an into dry dock.

Western Wedding in China.

Shanghai, May 5.—The first Chinese marriage ceremony conducted according to the Western style was celebrated here to-day. The ceremony was according to the Chinese ritual, but it all other respects the wedding was of the European style. The bride wore a long white veil and was attended by three bridesmaids in picture hats. The bridegroom wore a frock coat and a white hat.

PAPAL DELEGATE ARRIVES TO-DAY

Without the usual pomp and ceremony which marks the arrival in this country of a foreign diplomat, Mr. Bassano, the new Papal Delegate, will arrive in Washington this morning, accompanied by Mr. Corbelli, and take up his duties at the Papal Legation.

Ever since the appointment of Mr. Bassano to succeed Cardinal Falconio was announced the date of his arrival in this country has been uncertain, so no plans were made for a reception. A reception will be held within a few days.

ARMY NOW PLANS AERIAL SQUADRON ON LARGE SCALE

Fleet Powerful Enough to Defend Country's Coast
Aim of Department.

TO ENLARGE SERVICE

New Arm Will Be More Dangerous
Than Cavalry and Will Get Better Pay.

Comprehensive and spectacular plans for the organization of a great aerial army powerful enough to defend the entire coast line of the United States, the Philippines, Hawaii, and Panama, are now complete at the War Department. Under the direction of the Signal Corps an entirely new arm of the service will be immediately organized, provided Congress give its consent. Following the system of aerial defense perfected by France and Germany, the plan provides for the organization of no fewer than fourteen groups of coast defense stations along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, from which they will spend to sea at the first appearance of hostile war ships and endeavor to destroy them before they arrive within range of the forts.

Two squadrons of aeroplanes will be stationed in the Philippines to destroy any enemy endeavoring to effect a landing there. One squadron will support the defense of the Panama Canal. Powerful fleets will top the high hills at the Pacific end of the canal. The time of these hills, being sliced off, form a plateau from which aeroplanes will be able to depart and alight with the greatest ease. The naval base now being completed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, will also be equipped with a squadron of aeroplanes.

Three Aerial Squadrons.

In addition to coast defense and the defense of the island possessions, the plan comprehends the organization of at least three aerial squadrons of aeroplanes for each division of troops in the regular army and a squadron of extra powerful machines for long distance reconnaissance in connection with each general army corps that may take the field. A number of specialized machines are provided for use with the field artillery. Extending the new arm of the service to the militia, one squadron of aeroplanes is planned for each division of State troops with an additional squadron for operation under direction of the general commanding every corps. In the regular army are trained to operate aeroplanes. To provide a capable force it is planned to establish five great training schools, one on the Atlantic coast, another along the Pacific, a third on the Gulf, and still another on the Great Lakes. The remaining school will be established at a central location not yet fixed.

As many auxiliary "aviation centers" as possible will also be organized.

30 Per Cent Better Pay.

Anticipating the necessity for an entirely new body of officers and enlisted men for this new arm of the service, a bill was submitted by Secretary Dismore to the Military Committee of the House on March 11.

As a preliminary organization it provides for two colonels, two lieutenant colonels, six majors, thirty captains, thirty first lieutenants and thirty second lieutenants.

As the organization progresses an additional request will be made for one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, three majors, fifteen captains, fifteen first lieutenants, fifteen second lieutenants, and six hundred enlisted men.

The War Department recognizes that the new arm of the service will be far more dangerous than the cavalry, and as an inducement for men to enter it, 20 per cent more pay is offered than in any other arm.

GOVERNOR DIRECTS WORK

Issues Order That All Male Refugees Must Work or They Cannot Eat.

New Orleans, May 5.—Its banks guarded by State militiamen and planters and business men, the Mississippi's tide to-night is rushing toward the Gulf with no new crevices reported in the last twenty-four hours. More Washington artillerymen, however, have been ordered from New Orleans to re-enforce the troops guarding the river's embankments at Baton Rouge, the State capital, where the work of holding the levee is going on under the direction of government engineers.

Inability of the government and State officials in charge of the river work to get colored men to work to hold the levees at Baton Rouge has prompted Gov. Sanders to issue an order to the militiamen to compel them. Gov. Sanders issued another order to give no supplies to those not working.

At Baton Rouge, Morgan, Melville, and Bayou des Glaces the situation continues serious, and the Mississippi is rising. Bayou des Glaces reports that the water is within one and one-half feet of the top of the levee and the works are soft in many places. At Morgan the river is within a foot of overflowing the levee. Bayou des Glaces is momentarily expected to be inundated. A break there will flood vast sections of Louisiana, as well as the Choctawhatchee, Palmetto, and a part of St. Landry parish.

TEACH SEX HYGIENE IS PLAN IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 5.—A request to the war on the white slave traffic and the report of the Chicago vice commission is the decision of the Chicago Board of Education to teach sex hygiene, not in the schools, but to parents at meetings in the public school halls. An appropriation for the purpose was made. This is one of the lines of activity urged by the American Vigilance Association, which has taken up nationally the protective, educational, and legislative efforts begun some three years ago by United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims, Assistant State's Attorney Clifford G. Roe, and others of a committee.

Mr. Roe is now executive secretary and general counsel of the association, whose executive committee includes Chicago's J. B. Barnes, chairman; John G. Shedd, Julius Rosenwald, Henry P. Crowell, A. B. Barnett, and Jane Addams, all of Chicago; Grace H. Lodge and James Bronson Reynolds, of New York; Dr. O. Edward Janner, of Baltimore; Wallace Simmons, of St. Louis; Charles Bentley, of San Francisco; and Henry J. Dannenbaum, of Houston, Tex.

Mr. Roe, in a statement in Vigilance, the official publication, said: "The executive board is not complete and there are yet to be organized State committees, advisory boards, and the like. The new association proposes to carry on the good work of the National Vigilance Committee, the American Futurity Alliance, various State and city committees and societies which have been amalgamated into this new organization. It will act as sort of a clearing house for all societies and committees which are directing their energies against the traffic in girls and women."

BELT BUCKLE SAVES LIFE OF WOMAN WHEN ATTACKED WITH PISTOL

Wilmington, Del., May 5.—A belt buckle is believed to have saved the life of Jennie Cammonville, a young colored woman, of Marshalltown, early this morning. With Edward and John Pritchett, the girl was returning from a party when Frank Brown, also colored, is alleged to have opened fire with a revolver. The two Pritchetts were wounded and were sent to a hospital. A bullet struck the belt buckle of the girl, but was deflected. Brown was arrested and held for court.
